ABOUT THE FA PROGRAM

The Fine Arts Program of the University of the Philippines Cebu was founded in 1975 as the first leading academic institution of the fine arts outside of the national capital.

Graduates under either the Studio Arts and Product Design tracks animate the continuing development of culture and the arts as professional studio artists, designers, teachers, and art professionals, furthering proficiencies, competencies and skills as well as increasing research and creative work inside the art, design, and culture disciplines.

STUDIO ARTS

The Studio Arts degree offers training and mentoring inside four streams of learning; namely, Drawing and Painting, Materials and Sculpture, History and Theory, and Digital Arts. These trainings cover the expanse of classical formalism, modernism, and contemporary art. Through the three-year Certificate and four-year Bachelor of Fine Arts degree offerings, students develop a body of works backed up by sufficient theory representing the beginnings of their portfolio of academic and professional works. Graduates of the Bachelor of Fine Arts Studio Arts are required an actual exhibit of works justified by a written thesis.

PRODUCT DESIGN

The Product Design degree offers training and mentoring to students seeking to be designers of manufactured products or professionals working in design-related fields of the creative industries. Excellent training is provided inside four streams of learning; namely, Drawing and Rendering, Materials and Model-Making, Design History and Theory, Painting, and Digital Technology. These trainings cover the expanse of classical formalism, modernism, and contemporary design. Graduates of the Bachelor of Fines Arts Product Design are required to present a public presentation of design works justified by a written thesis.
